

CUPPA ANYONE?

Moretonhampstead based potter, Penny Simpson, is holding an exhibition of mugs, jugs and plates to celebrate the joy of tea and coffee time with hand made ceramics. The pots are made by Penny Simpson and Kate Hill-Smith and decorated by them and the artist, Michael Edwards.

Penny says, "We want to celebrate those times of the day where you stop and take a break from work or the everyday chores, either to have a chat with friends or to enjoy some quiet time. Most people have a favourite mug for their cuppa. How nice to have one which is hand-made!

We have also made some small plates for those who like to indulge in some cake or a snack with their cuppa. We like the idea that our pots will make everyday life just a little bit happier."

The exhibition will run from March 14th to April 18th and is held in the showroom of Penny's studio at 42, Court Street, Moretonhampstead TQ13 8LG.
